THE MOUTH THAT SMILES.

You can keep father time at bay a long time with a smiling mouth and you can add necessary years with a drooping mouth.

If you don't believe this, stand in front of your mirror with the muscles of the corners of your mouth turned down.

The expression of the whole face is old, unhappy and ugly. Then smile without showing the teeth. Don't you look younger and far more attractive?

Few women realize what a wonderful effect mind and temperament have upon their personal appearance, or that one of the greatest factors in remaining young is the habit of always looking on the bright side of things and cultivating a capacity for enjoying everything in life, small pleasures as well as great.

Some people possess this capacity naturally, but anyone can make an attempt to cultivate it.

The aging lines about your mouth are purely habit. You allow the muscles around your mouth to sag through indulging in discontent and ill temper.

Everyone can tell without consulting the mirror, when the mouth is drooping; and then is the time to correct the downward curve of the muscles. To remove the aging lines about your mouth use adhesive plaster. Curve the lips upward in a smile. Then damp and fix a piece of plaster, cut the shape of a half moon, on either side of the mouth.

Leave them in this position for several hours, if worn during the day; or they can be applied at night and left on till morning, whichever is most convenient.

What the French Maid Told Marjorie

BY JANE LOWELL.

TAKING OUT STAINS.

"Look at the mud," exclaimed Marjorie disgustedly. "An auto splashed all over my new silk gown just as I was stepping up on the curb and I don't know how I will ever get it clean again."

"Be sure to wait until the mud is entirely dry and then brush off with a whisk broom and sponge the marks until they disappear. If the marks are still persistent try another means," continued Marie.

"To clean black silk from mud stains the following process is often very successful: Pare and cut into very small pieces one potato and pour over it a pint of boiling water, cover and let stand overnight.

"Then add enough spirits of wine to give it the consistency of very thin starch. Squeeze the silk rapidly with this liquid and rub each spot carefully, letting the liquid wet the material thoroughly.

"Press the silk dry on the wrong side, running the iron up and down the silk, not across it. To clean mud from white or colored cotton fabrics soak in kerosene for a few hours.

"Ink spots can sometimes be removed by soaking in milk. However the milk should never be allowed to dry on the ink-spotted article, as it leaves a dirty yellow stain which is hard to wash out. Various ink-eradicators are sometimes useful.

"A simple remedy, one, too, which has proved effective on old stains which have defied other treatment, is peroxide of hydrogen. This, of course, should be used carefully on colored materials, as it has a bleaching effect. It can be dropped or poured slowly from a spoon.

"There are several other methods of removing ordinary ink stains from white wash goods. One of them is by the use of chlorinated soda, which can be procured at any drug store and will take out ink if the spot has not been washed with soap and water. It should be rinsed out as soon as the spot has disappeared, after the application of the soda.
